

Jeffries Technology Solutions Becomes a Woman-Owned Business

September 1, 2010

Herndon, Virginia– Jeffries Technology Solutions, Inc. (JeTSI) announced today that it has become a woman-owned business. Leslie Jeffries was elected Chief Executive Officer on August 18, 2010 with a 51% majority in the company.

JeTSI is an engineering consulting firm specializing in the aerospace industry. It provides diverse services in systems engineering and architecture, software development, and custom hardware solutions. Incorporated in 2003, JeTSI was formed by husband and wife team, Alan and Leslie Jeffries. Mr. Jeffries has 20+ years of experience in business development, program management and providing solutions with a solid understanding of the technical and business issues facing a company. Mrs. Jeffries is a project leader and senior software engineer, also with 20+ years of experience in both the commercial corporate world and government contracting. Together they are a formidable management team leading their staff and working with government and corporate entities, and their technical challenges.

To continue building on JeTSI's achievements and to ensure all client parameters are met, Mrs. Jeffries has assumed corporate management of JeTSI and staff management. She will also continue to lend her software engineering expertise to clients and projects. Co-Owner, Mr. Jeffries will concentrate on business development for JeTSI as well as interfacing with clients on their technical and business challenges.

Mr. Jeffries said, "With Leslie at the helm, I know our company will be managed efficiently and we will be prepared for the future as JeTSI continues to grow. I can concentrate on the clients with full confidence that the home office is under control."

According to the Center for Women's Business Research 10.1 million firms are owned by women, employing more than 13 million people, and generating $1.9 trillion in sales as of 2008. "I'm proud to be part of that statistic," said Mrs. Jeffries. "I'm looking forward to leading JeTSI as a woman-owned business and developing new avenues of opportunity with our potential clients."
