SCAVENGER HUNT

Can you find these exhibits at the Udvar-Hazy Center?

- Pre-1930 plane with a flying wing shape & pontoon landing gears.
- U.S. Army amphibious and land plane named for a city. It took 133 days to fly from San Antonio to Washington, DC.
- Vietnam workhorse, best known for its nickname (not related to Donald Duck).
- Who was Maggie and how was she related to our business market?
- Designed by a schoolteacher, this plane looks like a toy, mon ami.
- This plane broke some records: longest nonstop flight in distance – solo in 67 hours.
- The precursor to a USMC VTOL Air craft, developed by NASA & U.S. Army.
- It's a plane, no wait it's a car.... (If JeTSI employees had one of these they wouldn't have to worry about flights and car rentals anymore!)
- Looks like a skateboard ramp in the sky, this experimental aircraft needs the Sun.
- Downed more planes in the Pacific than any other warplane – it was greased lightning!
